

Lawrence Livermore Retiree Association Report

Report to CUCRA

Oct. 25, 2022

With about 400 members, LLRA continues to publish a brief electronic newsletter. This is its main activity. Topics range from announcements about community events to news from Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory to various science and pandemic stories. There are also occasional updates about the retiree healthcare lawsuit against the University of California, which was settled several years ago.

Before the pandemic, the main activity of the Association was to hold monthly luncheon meetings with invited speakers. These were typically attended by 50-70 members. We hope to return to these face-to-face meetings, but we remain cautious about pandemic risks. Our Board will reassess the possibility of returning to luncheons in coming months as state and local health guidelines permit.

Association's volunteer programs: There are no volunteer programs. Board members are the only volunteers within LLRA.

Association's member benefits (parking, discounts, etc.): None other than the emailed newsletter.

Status of the Retirement Center: There is no Retirement Center for LLRA.

Plans for the next year or two: We hope to be able to restart our monthly luncheons.
