

JIM DOLGONAS

Statement of Qualifications for JBC (Joint Benefits Committee) Representative

Jim is President of PARRA, the President's and Regents' Retiree Association, a role he has served for over 9 years. He spent the majority of his UC career at the Office of the President, in a variety of IT management and executive positions including Chief Information Officer. His IT responsibility gave him the opportunity to collaborate with a wide range of individuals across the University and become knowledgeable about many University functions. Adding to his experiences, he was responsible for overseeing UCOP public records requests, UCOP building services and campus police services. After leaving Office of the President in 2002 he joined CENIC, a non-profit corporation providing internet services to research and education institutions. When he joined CENIC it was in start-up mode and primarily served UC campuses, Caltech, Stanford and USC. By the time he left in 2012 as President and CEO, CENIC was serving all CSU campuses, all Community Colleges, the K-12, ASU, the University of Arizona and several research entities. He continues to provide consulting to CENIC, mostly in the area of telecommunications regulations and policies, and to select entities nationally. He is also active in his community, serving on several city and county boards and committees and on other civic groups.
