Attendees will participate in a guided tour led by museum staff exploring the exhibition Mountain Spirits: Rice and Indigeneity in the Northern Luzon Highlands, Philippines. Visitors will immerse themselves in this world through carved guardians, ritual bowls, woven blankets, farming tools, soundscapes, and video installations. Together, these works reveal how sustenance and spirituality are entwined, and how generosity, labor, and environmental care nurture Ifugao life. The tour will end at 5:45 p.m. and the shuttle will pick up attendees to return them to The Inn.
